Online Video System for Real Estate Agents

All you need to do is paste the property URL from your agency's website into the REvid online system and we take care of the rest, turning your property listings into a professional video that includes voice over, music and subtitles.

Video with Voice-Over and Subtitles

You receive a photo-based video that includes voice-over, subtitles and music edited into a professional video production. We compile pre-recorded voice over tracks that have been selected to match the inclusion and features of your property. Using voice is an effective way of describing the property to viewers as they watch. It's amazing how voice engages with your viewers and makes the video much more interesting and enjoyable.

Images to Life with Your Personal Brand

Your property images are brought to life using animation, movement and transition – to mimic actual video. It's pretty close to the real thing because most property video recordings typically contain little movement. Each video uses your brand and image – and your contact details – integrating the promotion of property and agent to maximum effect.

Makes Real Estate Video Doable

REvid is a low cost doable solution – quick and easy to achieve. You get many video formats, including subtitles, each designed to cover most online, social media and marketing applications.
